Warning!

The parties who defraud the public and ourselves by endeavoring to imitate our flour, do not imitate the flour, however. They imitate only sack and brand. "What a fair outside falsehood hath."

It is a risky business these people undertake. It is not stated on the sacks where the bogus flour is made. In the moon perhaps. Also the genuine flour has reached that delectable sphere.

A SERIOUS OUTBREAK

Threatened by Indian Fishers if the Canneries Do Not Pay Better Prices for Fish.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 4.—The steamer Queen, which arrived from Alaska Sunday night, brought news of a threatened outbreak at Chilkoot. The matter became so serious that on July 15 Governor Knapp and District Attorney Johnson left on the United States steamer Ponta for the scene of the disturbance. The occasion of this visit was an urgent appeal from the natives and white people, who fear an outbreak and violence growing out of differences between the natives and managers of canneries as to fishing grounds, and the price offered for salmon. Days were spent in listening to complaints with a view to securing a satisfactory solution of the differences. At one of the sessions there were two hundred Indians present.

Last year the canneries paid ten cents each for salmon, but the managers of all three of the canneries agreed that they could not this year afford to pay more than five cents per fish and stood firm in their determination to make no compromise. The natives are cross and sullen because their demands were not acceded to. When the Ponta left the scene it was not known if the natives would accept the terms insisted upon by the canneries and it is more than probable that the presence of a gunboat will be necessary to keep the Indians in check and to prevent what is threatened to be a serious outbreak.

FOURTEEN MURDERED.

The Bell Punchers and Toda's Gang Have a Bloody Fight.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 4.—A later dispatch from Lake Charles, La., says the shooting at Lookmore on Sunday was even worse than at first reported. It seems that a gang of toughs calling themselves the "Toda's gang," employed by the company, have been at enmity with the native employes, nicknamed the "bell punchers," for some months. On Sunday afternoon the former armed themselves and deliberately shot down all the "bell punchers" they could find. A wounded man who left the scene early yesterday states that fourteen were killed and two more were missing. He says it was a free for all fight between the red bones and whites. Officers and physicians have gone to the scene. It is reported that one physician was waylaid and killed.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

A Bank Cashier Run Down by a Train of Cars.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—Wm. L. Buck, a well known citizen of Delaware county and cashier of the First National bank of Darby, was killed last night on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, near Collingdale, by being struck by a train while walking on the tracks. It was at first reported that Mr. Buck had been robbed and murdered by burglars, but as his money and valuables were found on his person, his death is believed to have been accidental. The murder theory is said to have arisen from the finding of a horse and wagon with burglar tools.

RATHER PREMATURE.

A Coroner Impanels a Jury Before the Subject of Inquest Is Dead.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—I. Newton Baker, who was shot by Orville Anderson at Croton Landing Saturday, is still hovering between life and death. Coroner Sutton has drawn upon himself a great deal of comment by his action in empanelling a jury while Baker is alive. The jurors who comprise a number of old "land marks" of the place, go about engaging freely in discussions and disputes and giving opinions strongly covered by prejudice as to the merits of the case.

WILL PLAY THE ENGLISH.

America Preparing to Send a Foot Ball Team to Foreign Lands.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 4.—Next Thursday four foot ball players from this city, four from Pawtucket, and six from Canada will sail on the steamship Nevada for Great Britain and Ireland to be gone about five months. They will participate in exhibition games to be played in all the principal cities of England and also in a series of international games to determine the relative merits of Englishmen and Americans as foot ballists.

DIDN'T ENJOY WEALTH.

Sad Ending of a Once Prominent Business Man.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Andrew L. Westbrook, of Clifton, N. J., committed suicide yesterday by drowning himself in Dundee lake. He was sixty-nine years old and had a stroke of paralysis formerly. His mind was affected and while temporarily insane, took his life. He was a retired car man, worth $200,000, and for some years had lived in Brooklyn.

DENIES THE STORY.

Mr. Quay Did Not Contribute Toward Coogan's Candidacy.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 4.—James J. Coogan, labor candidate for mayor of the city of New York, denies the story published that Senator Quay gave $50,000 toward his candidacy as mayor in 1888. He says Mr. Quay, nor any one else, contributed one dollar toward his election expenses. He also says that if Mr. Quay succeeded in obtaining from the republican committee $50,000, or any sum, representing that it was to be given to him (Coogan), he certainly obtained the money under false pretences.

STRUCK A SNAG.

The People's Party Divide on the Sub-Treasury Question.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 4.—The agitation within the alliance ranks over the sub-treasury scheme has brought forward opposition from unexpected sources. Col. W. A. Harris, of Leavenworth county, candidate of the people's party caucus for United States senator, has written a long communication opposing the scheme. The sub alliances throughout the state will take action on it this month and their decision will be a sub-treasury plank in the people's party platform in this state. If Kansas repudiates it, U. S. Hall, president of the Missouri alliance, will receive a great vindication in the fight being made upon him by Dr. Mosane. The communication by Col. Harris is said to be the ablest presented against the sub-treasury scheme.

FOUR SCORE AND THREE.

Hamilton Fish Celebrates His Eighty-Third Anniversary.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Hon. Hamilton Fish, one of the three surviving secretaries of state of the United States, and one of the surviving governors of the state of New York, and one of the five surviving United States senators from this state, celebrated the eighty-third anniversary of his birth at Glenolife, near Garrison's yesterday. Mr. Fish is enjoying particularly good health, his memory is clear, his appetite is good and he has not lost his zest in matters of public interest.

A BRUTAL AFFAIR.

Representatives of the Two Chilian Factions Have a Fight.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Advices from Lima, Peru, says: "Intense excitement has been created in diplomatic circles here by a fierce personal encounter between the representative of the Chilian revolutionary party and a military attache of the Chilian government legation. From all accounts the attacking party was the attache of the government and the assault is said to have been of a most brutal character. The insurgent representative is severely injured.

PROFESSOR KORFF

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The body of Prof. Chas. A. Korff, president of the Korff Institute of Languages at 998 First avenue, was found floating in Long Island sound in front of Oak Point Pavillion yesterday afternoon. Cuts and bruises on the body raise strong suspicion that he was murdered. Professor Korff started from his home for a walk Saturday afternoon and was not seen alive afterward. He had several hundred dollars in his pocket when he left home and only sixty cents remained when he was found.

AN UNGRATEFUL OFFICER

Shoots the Man Who Saved Him From the Hands of an Assailant.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Aug. 7.—John Roedy, of Bound Brook, is a patient at the Muhlenberg hospital, suffering from an ugly pistol wound in the knee and another in the head, caused by a Bound Brook officer. He happened along when Marshal Whitehead was trying to arrest Timothy Dorn. Dorn was choking the officer, who called for help. Roedy separated the men and really saved Whitehead's life. Dorn then ran away, and Whitehead clubbed and shot Roedy and had him put under arrest for "assisting a prisoner to escape." Roedy will always carry the bullet.

MORPHINE DID IT.

METROPOLIS, Ill., Aug. 4.—Dr. Edward P. Spaulding, a prominent physician of this city, now lies dying at his residence, from the effects of a pistol wound in the head, fired by himself last night. POISONED LIQUOR.

Strange Murder of Two Passengers on a Massachusetts Train by Unknown Parties.

NORWOOD, Mass., Aug. 4.—Edward Hayes is dead and J. B. Brown is in a critical condition from the effects of poisoned liquor given them on a railway train yesterday. They were returning home from Boston and joined two strangers in a game of whist. During the play one of the strangers produced a pint bottle and passed it around. Hayes and Brown drank, but the strangers did not. When Brown left the train at the Norwood Central station he fell beside the track insensible. He was taken home and at a late hour last night his recovery was doubtful. Hayes went on to Winslow station, two miles further, and got off the train with much difficulty. He walked to a field near by and lay down on his face, where a friend tried to arouse him a few minutes later but found him dead. The motive is a mystery.

DEATH OF THE WESTERN.

The Milwaukee Club Makes an Effort to Get a Place in the American.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—Secretary Clark, of the Milwaukee club, accompanied by directors of that organization, met three directors of the Louisville club here yesterday. It has leaked out that the Milwaukee officials came to dicker with the Louisville people for their franchise in the American association. They offered the Louisville club what they considered a reasonable figure to retire and notified President Von Der Ahe and the Boston club officials of their readiness to step into the Louisville's shoes at a moment's notice, when the latter dropped out. The Louisville club will give a decided answer to the proposition after a meeting of the stockholders next Thursday. A prominent official in the association and who is on the "inside" said yesterday that Louisville will be out and Milwaukee in the association within ten days.

HIS WIFE'S PERMISSION.

License for Drinkers to Be Countersigned by Licensee's Wife.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 4.—Councilman Bowes introduced a unique ordinance in the lower house of the common council last night. The ordinance requires the purchaser from the city of a license by all drinkers of intoxicating liquors, the licenses to vary in their cost from $20 to $50, according to the expensiveness of the liquor which the purchaser drinks. The ordinance further provides that each application for a drinker's licence shall be countersigned by the applicant's wife.

In presenting the ordinance Mr. Bowes explained that an enforcement of its provisions would yield a revenue to the city of $1,000,000 a year and at the same time would greatly promote the cause of temperance.

WAS A FORGER.

And Inability to Face His Victims Prompted Suicide.

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—It is asserted here, and admitted, it is said, by one of the members of the firm of Wilson, Cassell & Co., that W. R. Cassell, who committed suicide in Portland, Me., Sunday night, was a forger. So far as is now known the amount of his forgeries is between $3,000 and $4,000. His connection with the Hall Safe and Lock company, of which the firm has the Boston agency, dates back some twenty years. He was the business manager. His partners account for the suicide on the ground that he was unable to face the discovery of his forgeries.

FOOLED WITH DYNAMITE

And Now Two Little Boys are Laid Up for Repairs.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Aug. 4.—Yesterday two boys, David Gresham and Johnny Ping, got on an engine in the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis yards in the absence of the watchman, and got hold of one or two large dynamite torpedoes. With a hammer one of them was exploded, but while there was not a funeral today, both David and Johnny are laid up for repairs in the shape of bad burns and cuts.

AS GOOD AS HIS WORD.

"I Guess I'll Blow Your Foot Off," Said a Boy, and He Did.

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Aug. 4.—Saturday evening at Rogersville, a few miles north of here, Monroe Kendrie, aged thirteen years, playfully pointed a gun at Harry Brown, a young boy of about the same age, and remarked that he guessed he would shoot his foot off. The gun went off and tore the inside of his foot out, making amputation necessary.

BREAKING UP.

The Liberal Party Going to Pieces in Utah.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 4.—The returns up to a late hour last night show that while the liberals have carried the city, the democrats have captured the county offices, and also won in Ogden and Provo. The election shows that the liberal party is breaking up.

Terribly Frightened by a Mouse.

COUDON, Aug. 4.—Miss Minnie Flora, daughter of Jefferson Flora, of Monkport, this county, was so badly frightened by a mouse yesterday that she lost control of speech, and when her mother found her she was cold and unconscious. A physician was immediately sent for. She has since revived, but is yet suffering much from nervousness.

THE TAX COMMISSIONERS.

Organization Perfected and an Adjournment Taken for a Week.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 4.—The members of the state board of tax commissioners, Messrs. Walker and Given, met at the capital yesterday morning for the purpose of assessing railroad property and equalizing the assessment of real estate. They formally organized by the election of Governor Hovey as chairman, while Deputy Auditor Fanning acted as secretary. Auditor Henderson and Secretary Matthews were both present.

Immediately after the organization had been perfected it was shown that but sixty counties had sent in their abstracts of the assessment of real estate. In view of this fact, and because the governor and Mr. Walker wanted to go to Detroit, the board decided not to begin its labors until Monday next, by which time it is expected that all of the counties will be in. It therefore adjourned until that date.

The board will first take up and consider individual appeals from the various county boards of review, of which there have been about twenty-five filed already. Next it will begin the equalization of realty. It is expected that this work will be completed in about ten days.

Beginning with August 20 the railroads and corporations will be heard, each of which must file a brief written statement of facts, while their representatives will be allowed about fifteen or twenty minutes in which to make an oral statement.

Commissioner Gain said yesterday that the board was determined to give all appeals due consideration, and would exert itself to the utmost to make a fair and equitable assessment.

There are altogether seventy railroads doing business in the state, and as it is pretty well understood that there will be a heavy increase in their assessments, there is no question that they will all be represented before the board.

FORGER ARRESTED.

He First Gets in His Work on Terre Haute Merchants.

TERRE HAUTE, Aug. 4.—The police tonight arrested a flashily-dressed young man, who had been passing forged checks during the day, and who confessed all. He had in his possession checks forged in the name of J. C. Clark on the First National bank of Vincennes for amounts from $100 to $250, and aggregating over $800. He had passed a $100 check on a queensware dealer, from whom he bought $30 worth of chinaware, which he said he wanted sent to his wife at Oaktown, near Vincennes, as a present. The dealer gave him his own check for the $20 remainder, and this check the fellow cashed at a restaurant. He says he passed a forged check at Evansville on Saturday; that his name is C. M. Leake, of Franklin, Ky., and that he left home last Friday.

LUCK OF A NEWSPAPER MAN.

Charles D. Skillings, of West Superior, Heir to a Vast Fortune.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., Aug. 4.—Charles D. Skillings, a local newspaper man, is heir to an estate in Portland, Me., worth about $5,000,000. Skillings was apprised of his luck through a press dispatch, in which a Mr. Waterman, of Meriden, Conn., was said to be heir to the estate of John Skillings. From a copy of a lease in possession of C. D. Skillings it appears that April 10, 1792, John Skillings leased to Hiram Ilsley a certain tract of land, with buildings thereon, in what is now the heart of Portland, for a period of ninety-nine years, this term expired last April. Inquiry for heirs was set on foot, and Mr. Waterman, who is a distant relative, was discovered. Mr. Skillings is a great great-grandson of John Skillings who made the lease. Miss Skillings of the Boston Herald is also an heir.

COUNCILMEN AT WAR.

Bitter Fight Between High and Low License Aldermen at Danville.

DANVILLE, Aug. 4.—Some of the low-license aldermen are very much enraged at their recent failure to have the city council reduce the saloon license from $1,000 to $800. Alderman Runyan seems to be an object of especial hatred, because he exposed in the council an attempt to secure two high license aldermen by bribes of $1,000 and by promises of $2,000 worth of work. Since then he has been the recipient of anonymous letters threatening him with bodily injury.

TRAIN WRECKED.

Passengers Thrown About Roughly but None Were Killed.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 4.—A collision occurred this morning on the New York and New Haven railroad at West Haven between a freight and a passenger train.

Later reports indicate that the accident was a bad one. Two passengers were thrown from their seats into a heap about the cars but no one was seriously injured.

GRAND PAGEANT.

The Pretty Michigan City Witnesses the Biggest Street Parade of Veterans Ever Held.

DETROIT, Aug. 4.—A rapper touched a light to a big cannon in Grand Circus park just as the clock in the city hall was chiming the hour of noon. As the reverberations of artillery echoed over the City of Straits, a mounted troop wheeled around the corner of Woodward avenue and into the Campus Martius. Simultaneously a snow white handkerchief fluttered in the hand of a woman with clear cut, commanding features, and snow white hair, combed back from the forehead, and who sat in the very front of the grand stand.

She rose to her feet and the handkerchief fluttered higher. Those around her arose also. The band struck up the familiar air of "Auld Lang Syne" and 10,000 voices joined in the strain. Then as the music died away, there was a cheer, and another, until from all parts of the campus, as it were, a mighty roar of acclaim ascended to the sky and in the midst of the tumult the lady who had been mistaken for the widow of the immortal Logan overcome with emotion at the scene sank back into the seat.

What a day for the celebration of the silver anniversary of the boys in blue! The gods had been good. They could not well have done more. A cloudless sky, a genial sun, an atmosphere like crystal, a gentle breeze that in touching the faces of men and women and children felt as though in journeying hitherward it had tarried to kiss the tops of the icebergs in the northern Atlantic. And "Old Sol" looked down upon a city decked as perhaps no city has been decked before; with acres of bunting; with flags and shields and pictures of heroes that have gone before; with nature's gifts from the cottage garden and with the choicest products of the conservatory; looked down upon streets and windows and roofs packed with the smiling faces of old and young, a half million of them, yet notwithstanding the vast throng that lined itself on the principal highways along a route that covered many miles, there was no confusion, no disorder, no trouble of any kind.

"An ideal day, an ideal parade, an ideal concourse," so the veteran Lucius Fairchild, who has seen nearly every encampment for a quarter of a century, expressed himself.

"God bless the veterans who fought to keep our country united." Such was the inscription in letters two feet high that greeted the eyes of Commander-in-Chief Veysey, as he gave the word for the head of the column to move from the rendezvous at Adams and Woodward avenues at 10:30 o'clock.

The commander-in-chief was surrounded by his staff and a special detail of one hundred Massachusetts veterans, mounted on magnificently formed and gaily caparisoned steeds.

Two hundred Michigan veterans, in black frock suits, black slouch hats, and white bow ties, a combination that made them look for all the world like Methodist deacons, acted as rear escort to the staff. The next place of honor had been assigned to the veterans from Illinois, and as post No. 1, of Rockford, with its big banner, came into view, a round of cheers went from block to block. The department commander, Horace S. Clark, with Adjutant General L. McKinnie, and James L. Healy, as chief of staff, led the way on horseback, while close behind the banner of the department was proudly borne aloft in a carriage by Captain Meredith, chief of the bureau of engraving and printing.

Picturesque was the appearance presented by Geo. H. Thomas post, of the Windy City, each man of which carried a tri-colored umbrella. They walked twelve abreast from curb to curb, the umbrellas completely obscuring the identity of those that carried them to the people that looked down from above.

Ex Sheriff Matson marched alone in front of the U. S. Grant post, and those that knew him pointed him out to open-mouthed spectators as the man who swung the anarchists into eternity.

Old John Brown post made itself known through a big painting of the hero of Harper's Ferry, which was borne high by a stalwart son of Africa, while below a feathered fat goose on top of a pole, by the comrades of Farragut post told, the onlookers through a canvas inscription that "everything is lovely and the goose hangs high." Still another feature of the Illinois division was Phil Sheridan post, while American post No. 706, in black relief uniforms, presented an appearance that was awarded by liberal applause. That veteran of international fame, Lieut. Fairchild, wearing lightly his sixty years, and with his empty sleeve marched in the front rank of the Wisconsin division.

He was proffered a carriage when the route had been half gone over but rejected it with scorn. "I walk more than this every Sunday afternoon," said he, "it's lots of fun and worth the fatigue to see the people alone."

Vice-Commander Weissert, probably the next commander-in-chief, walked alongside the general. The spectators did not need to be told that the boys were from the Badger state, for Wolcott post, which led the line, carried bald headed "Old Abe," its mascot in the sixties, high in triumph, while alongside of the stuffed remains of the famous eagle was a big badger that once held high carnival in the woods around Green Bay. A young girl, typical of an Indian, with a costume of stars and stripes, and carrying a liberty cap on a pole, led Robert Obivas post, touching shoulders with Congressman John L. Mitchell, after whom cousin the post was named, and whose mother presented it with its first colors.

The Philadelphia and Pittsburg posts turned out in large numbers, and the sight of the tattered battle flags that they carried frequently drove the spectators into a frenzy of enthusiasm. Two Allegheny school band, composed large by of little fellows who had but recently gotten into Knickerbockers, was another feature of the division that came in for generous recognition.

In the fourth division the boys from Ohio turned out over 10,000 strong. In many of the posts every man carried a flag. About every post from Hamilton county was represented and the famous "Old Guard," of Dayton, the Memorial and Logan posts, of Cleveland, marched in force. In the second rank of Memorial post, Comrade Fevre, whose right leg was shot off from the hip at Gettysburg, hobbled along on crutches; and a colored brother, who lost his nose in the Wilderness, and the center of whose face was swathed in a linen bandage, kept him company. The renowned Private Dalzell headed the line of Lawrence post, of Columbus, in recognition of which the band that came behind played nothing but the "Razzle Dazzle" air throughout the line of march.

For fear that the private would get all the recognition the post accompanied itself with a score of good looking and well formed young girls in military relief caps, white bodices and blue skirts, and who marched along like schooled veterans, looking neither to the right nor the left in appreciation of the greeting that kept their cheeks tinted with the hot blood.

Wells post, of Columbus, sang a medley of popular songs from one end of the route to the other. Another ministerial looking post was Toledo, 106, while a set of the volunteers of the same city came out in white helmets and waving miniature flags.

In the Akron post a huge frame of buckeyes, garlanded with flowers, was borne on the shoulders of four graybeards, and many others of the posts displayed the buckeye.

The Wisconsin division was large and creditable, and so was the Third, composed of comrades from the Keystone state. Preceding this department were two miniature gun carriages, drawn by white ponies and driven by ten little boys in numerous devices.

There were forty-seven divisions in the parade and it took just two and a third hours for the first four to pass a given spot. At this rate the column will be still in movement when the sun is beginning to go down, for the big eastern contingents will barely get into line until 3 p. m., and the word went out that the 8,000 veterans from Michigan would have to rest themselves as best they could in the side streets until 4 o'clock.

The estimates of men who galloped along the line and through the formation streets after the column had moved placed the men in line all the way from 35,000 to 50,000.

It was noticeable that there were more crippled and otherwise disabled veterans than have been at any previous encampment. Many more gray heads and enfeebled frames. Every division was replete with interesting features.

At the head of the Indiana delegation Wallace Foster, secretary of the silent army of deaf soldiers, sailors and marines, carried an immense banner with the inscription, "Teach patriotism in the public schools."

The only colored member of the National council of the administration of the Grand Army, James I. Fuller, marched ahead of Dahlgren post, of Norfolk, Va.

In the Michigan division the Sault Ste Marie post carried umbrellas, emblematic of Lake Superior and the city of the Soo.

A PAIR OF 'EM!

John Beuret Wanted to Walk all Over Mattie Clark's Piano—A Woman Gets Hoodlog Drunk.

John Beuret visited the house of ill fame in Bloomingdale, conducted by Mat Clark, last night, and created considerable of a mess by his disorderly conduct.

He insisted in walking all over the furniture, and because Mat Clark would not let him continue his pedestrian tour over the piano, he commenced abusing her and tore up the furniture in great shape.

The result was that John fell into the clutches of the law. He was gathered in by Officer Knoch and taken to the police station, where he spent the night in a cell.

When he was brought up before Acting Mayor France in police court this morning, and Mattie testified to his rude actions in her house, Beuret was indignant and turned his abuse on her and her business, calling the woman all the vile names he could think of. There was a clear case against him, however, and the mayor gave him $10 and costs.

The other offender against the dignity of the law was Jennie Ferris, a woman who had been arrested by Officer Limecooley yesterday afternoon for being drunk and disorderly on East Berry street. She insisted that she had only drank two glasses of beer and was not drunk when the officer arrested her. Mr. Limecooley told, in his usual cool and straightforward way, the story of the woman's misdeeds, and the prisoner, turning on him with indignation, accused the faithful officer of having lied. This did not disturb Mr. Limecooley in the least, and he went on with his story.

Mayor France gave the woman the usual dose, $10.50, and she went to jail, but not without giving the officers a tongue lashing for the injustice of having arrested her for "only drinking two glasses of beer."

COURT GOSSIPS.

Acting Mayor France is hearing cases against three saloon keepers charged with unlawfully selling liquor.

An affidavit has been filed in Justice France's court against Henry Weibke for provoking Fred Lauke.

Frank Baker was fined $1 and costs by Justice France yesterday for drawing a weapon on John Bushman. Baker then retaliated by filing affidavits against James Weaver for selling liquor to minors, Albert Foggwall for provoke and Wesley Daily for malicious trespass. The parties are all residents of Lafayette township and the trouble was brought about at a dance. It is said that a woman was the cause of the whole affair.

Mary J. Reiter brings an action in the supreme court for divorce from John F. Reiter. J. F. Rodebaugh, who pens complaint, alleges cruel treatment as a ground for granting the divorce.

The preliminary hearing of Theodore Johnson, the tough who is charged with stabbing James Daugherty, will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock, before Justice Wilkinson.

John Carson yesterday filed an affidavit in Justice Wilkinson's court charging Christ Carmen with assault on his (Carson's) daughter. A few years ago Mrs. Carson got a divorce from her husband and married Carmen. Mr. and Mrs. Carson had two children and, by the decree of the divorce, the woman was given the daughter and the husband the son. Mr. Carson now charges that his daughter is cruelly treated by Carmen. The trial of the case this morning resulted in the acquittal of the defendant.

AN ELEGANT RECEPTION.

Professor and Mrs. Lindeman Tendered a Delightful Party.

One of the most elaborate receptions given was the one tendered last evening at the residence of Prof. D. Lindeman and wife. The occasion was the twenty-second anniversary of their wedding day. In receiving their guests the host and hostess were assisted by their charming daughter, Miss Tillie. An elaborate dinner was served in three courses. Professor Hitzeman's orchestra furnished some fine selections, assisted by Miss Leotta Connett and S. Cohan. Those who participated in the pleasures of the reception were: Prof. J. Riedel and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lenkenau, Mrs. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wellman, Mr. and Mrs. E. Brabs, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lingohr, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. F. Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. A. A JOINT debate on spiritualism has been arranged between Mrs. Luther, the pastor of spiritualism in Indiana, and Rev. Hunter McDonald, of Middletown, the debate to come off at Chesterfield on Saturday next.

THE election in Kentucky yesterday passed off in a quiet manner. All the democratic candidates on the ticket, from governor down, were elected by majorities ranging from 30,000 to 50,000. The democrats will have the legislature, although some of the farmers' third party elect their candidates.

MRS. J. ELLEN FOSTER was the attraction at the Fountain Park Assembly, near Warsaw, Saturday afternoon, and she discussed the "Third Party Fallacy." She held that the salvation of the nation depended upon prohibition, but claimed that the third party movement is an illusion, with no true apostle of temperance in league with it.

TODAY is pension day. By reason of the shifting about by the department at Washington it has only been two months since a payment was made, and the pensioners will consequently receive but two months' pay this time. From now on the payments will be at intervals of three months, as heretofore. A payment will be made in February, May, August and November of each year. Under the pension legislation of the last congress Indiana's roll has increased rapidly, but not so fast as some other states. Formerly the state was second in the number of pensioners on the roll of its agency, but now it has dropped to third place. But there are an enormous number of applications in, and when they have all been passed upon Indiana will likely step back into second place.

RAIN IS BADLY NEEDED.

Corn, Potatoes and all Vegetables Drying Up for Want of It.

In the northern portion of the state wheat and hay harvest is over, and large shipments of both staples are seeking distant markets. The absorbing interest centers now in the three remaining crops—corn, potatoes and tobacco, for which the outlook is also flattering. Considerable plowing has already been done, preparatory to sowing of wheat. Tomatoes are abundant, and blackberries more so, selling at eight cents per gallon. Peaches are slow in maturing, and not as large in size as in some former years, but the excess of yield will make up the difference. One of the most pleasing features is the contentment of the farmers. Complaints are rarely heard.

In the central portion of the state the rainfall has been exceedingly small, and corn needs rain much; although somewhat short, it still stands well in low fields. Wheat is all threshed and saved in fine condition.

In the north, central and eastern part of the state rain is needed very badly. Late corn and corn on high ground is almost dried up, and unless it receives rain soon it will not yield anything. Wheat is all threshed in excellent condition and is being marketed very rapidly. The yield is about twenty-five bushels per acre. All garden vegetables are drying up for want of rain. Pastures are becoming quite short. All small fruit has been very abundant, and there will be a very large peach crop, and a very fair apple and pear crop.

On the morning of the 29th there came a good and glorious rain in the northwestern counties, which has long been needed, and it did an immense amount of good to growing crops. The wheat is all saved in good shape, and oats are being cut, and will yield an average crop.

There are no "old favorites."

THE INTERMEDIATE STATE.

No Soul Has Yet Reached Heaven or Hell—All Dwell in Hades Until the Judgment.

The pulpit of Rev. Eldridge at the Wayne street M. E. church Sunday morning was occupied by Rev. John Merriette Driver, the pastor of the Simpson M. E. church, who preached a sermon on the theme, "Is There an Intermediate State, or How Long Between Death and the Judgment—How Spent and Where?" It was full of interest and excited considerable comment among those who heard the somewhat startling views taken by the divine on several subjects.

The doctrine of an intermediate state, he said in commencing, is by no means new, or peculiar to the Christian religion. Though confirmed by revelation as written, it is independent of it. Like the doctrines of immortality and a final judgment, like the emotions of joy and hope, it springs up indigenously in every soul, and men throughout all ages, almost, have believed it in one form or another. It is no vain curiosity that leads us to explore this theme. No mortal has yet gone from earth to heaven, or hell. All await the judgment with its sentences of weal or woe. Where and how will that long interval between death and judgment be spent?

The speaker reviewed at considerable length the various theories on this subject. Many suppose, he said, that at death a yawning hell, or a smiling heaven, awaits every soul, and that both of these places are already crowded with earthly occupants. This theory overlooks the fact that God hath appointed a day in which He will judge the world in righteousness. The true theory is that the grave is the receptacle of the body and hades the receptacle of all souls, whether good or bad, and when the resurrection comes, at the end of the world, the bodies are summoned from the earth and the souls from hades, at which time they are reunited, and then follows the judgment.

What is hades, this intermediate world? The preacher discoursed at length upon this branch of his subject. It is the place, he said in substance, where all go after death to await the day of judgment. It has two departments. Catholicism teaches that there are five, but the Bible mentions but two—the place whither Lazarus went, and the place whither Dives, the rich man, went. It was here our Savior went upon His crucifixion. His soul and body were parted by death; the body was laid in Joseph's new tomb, the soul went, as every other departed soul does, into hades. If it is objected because the good and the bad await judgment in the same place, it can be answered that there is no promise of a separation complete, and there is no promise of a judgment this side of the resurrection.

Upon the question of where hades is, the Bible is silent. The speaker, after dwelling upon the subject, spoke of the occupations of the inhabitants of the middle state, and said that the righteous were happy, while the wicked suffered torments beyond measure. There is a progress in the intermediate state. The good grow better and the wicked worse, but there is no hope for redemption to those who die the death of the ungodly. Character is fixed at death, though destiny is not fixed until the judgment.

Why an intermediate state? Because the final judgment is a part of the scheme of redemption and it cannot be consummated until the last living man has had Christ preached to him and has either accepted or rejected Him. Death, the last enemy, must be destroyed; his bands broken; his chains loosed, and every grave opened and emptied. Then comes the judgment.

Dr. Driver closed with a beautiful word picture of the joy of paradise to those who die Christians. There is a day of crowning for them, and friends, families in groups, pastors and congregations will be united and all will dwell together throughout eternity in happiness, "for the Lamb, which is in the midst of the throne, shall feed them and shall lead them unto living fountains of water, and God shall wipe all tears from their eyes."

BURIED MONEY.

John Wilyoung, of Dearborn county, a prosperous farmer, grew distrustful of the banks, drew out his money, a goodly sum, buried the money on his farm and died. He bequeathed the farm to his son, conditioned that an annuity be paid to his wife, while his two married daughters were set aside with small consideration. This engendered a family feud, embittered because a careful search failed to disclose the money. Finally the husbands of the married daughters consulted a soothsayer at Dayton, Ohio, and she agreed to point out the hiding place, but demanded $100 cash in advance. Their means were limited, but the money was paid, after which they were given a crude plat of the farm, with instructions to dig at a certain point, where, at the depth of six feet, they would find an iron pot containing $2,800 in gold. The brothers-in-law began digging, but were driven off by the son. Eventually a compromise was reached by which the digging was resumed, with constables on guard to prevent violence; but after much labor the treasure-hunters became convinced they had been deceived and they hurried to Dayton to recover their money. But the soothsayer had made a timely disappearance. The feud is now breaking out afresh, the treasure-hunters still believing the money is hidden on the farm, while the son is determined that his ground shall not be dug up by idle search.

CLAUDIO VICUNA.

The New President of the Republic of Chili.

The electoral college of Chili has conformed the election of Claudio Vicuna as president of the republic from the 18th of September, 1891, to the same date in 1896, a period of five years. President elect Vicuna is a friend of President Balmaceda and is elected with his approval. Vicuna was born in Santiago in 1833, a year memorable for giving birth to the present constitution of Chili. His father, Ignacio Vicuna, was a member of the historic family who gave to Chili the eminent archbishop, Manuel Vicuna; a president of the republic, Francisco Ramon Vicuna; a statesman, historian and liberal reformer, Pedro Felise Vicuna, and a patriot and illustrious citizen, Benjamin Vicuna MacKenna, the first president elected. President-elect Vicuna is a man of great attainments, but is at the same time eminently practical and energetic. He devoted the early portion of his life to the study of agriculture on a large farm where he introduced many important improvements, which have been generally adopted throughout the country. Among these were agricultural steam motors for various purposes for use in the field. He has traveled extensively in Europe and is considered by his countrymen to have every quality for governing Chili with sagacity, moderation and patriotism. It is to be hoped that the wise administration of Claudio Vicuna will see the end of the fratricidal war which has raged for so long in his country, and there is every reason to believe that such will be the case. We are enabled to furnish our readers with these particulars through the courtesy of Mr. Ramon Volos, the editor of Revista Popular, New York.

STATE NEWS.

Robert Foutz, contractor and builder, of Logansport, has been declared insane, the result of business troubles and religious excitement.

Representative "Jack" Bolan has succeeded the late Tom Byrne, at Evansville, as manager of the Evansville Electric Light company.

W. J. Anderson, of Evansville, a well-known character about town, who was nicknamed "Onions," attempted to swim across the Ohio river near that city yesterday, and was drowned.

Peter Machler, an old and respected German, of Terre Haute, attempted suicide by cutting an artery in his left wrist. Then he tried to shoot himself, and sent a bullet through the artery of his other wrist.

George Tapp, of Crawfordsville, was bitten by a supposed mad dog, and he paid $25 for the use of a mad-stone at Terre Haute. Now he is being annoyed by circulars from a Chicago house, saying he will surely die of hydrophobia unless he invests $100 in a remedy controlled by that firm.

Emory Spore, a prosperous young farmer near Jamestown, while driving homeward from a visit to his sweetheart, fell asleep in his buggy, and his horse attempted to cross a railway track in front of an approaching mail train. The buggy was struck and torn to pieces and Spore was instantly killed. He would have been married in a fortnight.

Benjamin Wells, aged nineteen, employed on the Carpenter farm, in Laporte county, was instantly killed by Ambro Bruminger, who plunged a knife into his heart. Bruminger is aged sixteen. The murderer was scuffling with another boy and Wells interfered, and this led to the killing. Bruminger attempted to escape, but was captured at Michigan City. He hails from Louisiana, Mo., where his father is an engineer in a tobacco factory.

PASTOR KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Perfectly Well!

FILLMORE, Ind., ... Sept., 1890.

Miss K. Finnigan writes: My brother and sister used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for neuralgia. They are both perfectly well now and never tired praising the Tonic.

Highest Esteem!

Cincinnati, O., May, 1890

Mr. C. H. Westerman writes: I bought Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for a friend of mine afflicted with epilepsy for 20 years, who spent quite a fortune during this time for remedies without any beneficial results. About nine months ago he commenced to take Koenig's Tonic, and the results have been more than gratifying. Previous to this he had often 10 attacks in one day, since then he has had not more than one attack a month, and this but very mildly. Had anyone told me a year ago that this friend of mine would be, comparatively speaking, a cured man by this time, I should have considered such a prediction an absurd one. There is no one more glad at the change in the condition than I am, and I shall only be too glad to recommend the remedy, and if there is one man above all others whom I shall always hold in the highest esteem, it is the Rev. E. Koenig, for nothing in this world will suffice to repay him for all he has done for poor suffering humanity.

Our Pamphlet for sufferers of nervous diseases will be sent free to any address, and poor patients can also obtain this medicine free of charge from us.

This remedy has been prepared by the Reverend Pastor Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., for the past ten years, and is now prepared under his direction by the RAILWAY NEWS.

Numerous Changes in Agent Philley's Office Force—News of a Local and General Character.

George W. Hood, for several years night bill clerk for E. S. Philley, at the Lake Shore office, has resigned, and the vacancy was the cause of a number of promotions. William Bohling succeeds Mr. Hood, H. B. Chilcote was promoted to tracing clerk and Frank Baldwin, of Maybee, Mich., was made reporting clerk. C. V. Reed, the day operator, was given a more lucrative position in the trainmaster's office at Hillsdale, and his successor here is George J. Ziehr, formerly the night operator, while Edward Lampert, of Hillsdale, Mich., was given the latter's position. These are all worthy young men and THE SENTINEL refers to their promotions with pleasure. It is not known what business Mr. Hood will engage in, but night work was very distasteful to him and the loss of sleep was breaking down his health. He will probably remain in the city.

BROTHERHOOD OF RAILWAY CONDUCTORS

The International Brotherhood of Railway Conductors will hold their third annual convention September 21, at Louisville, Ky. Three years ago some twenty five or thirty conductors in California founded the order, and it has steadily grown until its membership July 1 had reached 5,210, since which time four more divisions have been organized, with a membership of 107.

BUILDING A NEW BRIDGE.

The initial work on the railroad bridge at Evansville that is to span the Ohio river some three miles above, was begun Saturday. This bridge is to be built by the Huntington syndicate, which has recently come into possession of the Ohio Valley railway, running from Henderson to Princeton, Ky. At present the Ohio Valley cars are transferred across the river at this point, where the bridge is to be built.

HARVEST EXCURSIONS.

A good deal of interest is now taken in what action such roads as the Wabash and Lake Erie and Western will take as regards running harvest excursion, the roads in the Central Traffic territory having voted against harvest excursions. As lines in the Western association will run harvest excursions, and also the northwestern roads, there are roads in this territory which will hardly stand aloof. Eventually it is believed that all the roads in the Central Traffic territory will be drawn into running such excursions for self-protection.

HYGIENIC CONDITION OF CARS.

Railroad managers are beginning to pay more attention to the sanitary conditions of cars than they used to. In this connection a paper recently read by Dr. Conn, of Concord, N. H., before the National Association of Railway Surgeons, is of interest. He says: "The problem of securing fairly good hygienic conditions in railway passenger cars is one that presents more complications than almost any other question connected with the transportation of passengers. From thirty to sixty persons having tickets of the same class ride from one hour to two or three days in coaches having but little ventilation, and becoming more and more filthy with each succeeding day. These people will have variable mental and intellectual powers, from the helpless infant to the crank who seems to study how to make everybody uncomfortable; and as the hygienic conditions become worse and worse on account of the accumulating dust, cinders and other refuse matter, as well as a more disgusting condition of the closets, the women and children are obliged to endure and suffer far more than the men, for the reason that they are more strictly confined to the car, the men more generally going into the open air every time the train makes a moment's stop. When we take into consideration the hygienic conditions that generally exist in an ordinary passenger coach that is used for a continuous journey of from 500 to 1,500 miles, it should not excite surprise that by the time their destination is reached the people are disgusted with their accommodations and are suffering with headaches and perhaps nausea. It is true that passengers are more or less responsible for the general want of cleanliness in the car, for very many good people seem to forget themselves when journeying and permit their children, and even allow themselves, to throw upon the floor of the car nut shells, banana and orange peels, crumbs and remnants of lunches. In warm weather these refuse matters will in a short period render the atmosphere of a coach almost unbearable to a sensitive stomach, and the effect upon the nervous system is very depressing."

BRIEF MENTION.

The Wabash company has just received ten new freight engines.

Engine 218 was sent down to Monroeville this morning to haul the excursionists to Eagle lake.

Tomorrow the employes of Rhinesmith & Simonson will receive pay for labor performed in July.

Engineer F. P. Higgins attended the funeral of ex-Conductor Pat Travis yesterday. He will take out his usual run again tonight.

George McManigel, caller at the Pittsburg, is getting ready for a western trip. He will hunt Indians and grizzly bears while west.

W. Corcoran, E. Klinedinst, W. Deveny and Dan Camel, of the Pittsburg, went to Rome City this afternoon to fish a few days.

The Nickel Plate is raising the side track at the lumber yards of the Fort Wayne furniture works up to the level of the main track.

Fireman W. Payne, of the Pittsburg, went out on his run today for the first time in a week, during which time he spent in a sick bed.

Six well filled coaches passed through the city over the Pittsburg this morning, bearing an excursion party from Monroeville to Eagle lake.

On account of the death of his sister, mention of which is made elsewhere, Joseph Grothouse is not on duty at the Pittsburg blacksmith shop.

George Myers, an industrious and honest workman, has been promoted from a hammer to a furnace in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop.

Engineer P. Reilley, of the Pittsburg, took out his train today, after a lay off a trip or two. He attended the funeral of his late friend, Pat Travis, yesterday.

The men in the Pittsburg car shop and particularly that department under Capt. R. H. Harrison, in which the deceased was employed, will attend the funeral of the late John Graf tomorrow morning.

Mrs. James O'Connell, wife of the cabinetmaker in the works of the Fort Wayne Furniture company, is at LaGro, where her father and mother are lying very ill, with little hopes of their recovery.

An additional order for seven new engines has been placed with the Fort Wayne shops. This, with the eight engines now under way of construction, will give the men all they can do the remainder of the year.

The railroad branch of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a cottage prayer meeting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Trythall, at 43 East Butler street, this evening. The meeting promises to be unusually interesting.

E. E. Kearney, of Logansport, employed by the Panhandle road, has been elected vice grand master of the Brotherhood of Telegraphers, to succeed Mr. M. D. Shaw. The latter is now the grand master of the brotherhood.

It is highly probable that K. H. Wade, formerly of the Wabash road, now general manager of the California Southern road, will be appointed general manager of the Atlantic and Pacific on the retirement of D. B. Robinson.

M. O. Tierney, James A Ludington and J. J. Bennigan, machinist and base ball enthusiasts, are disgusted with the manner in which the Northwestern league went out of existence. They will probably organize a club next season.

S. A. Sine, fireman of Pittsburg freight train No. 70, had his foot crushed last evening at Lima, by a heavy piece of coal rolling upon him. He was brought to the city this morning and placed under Dr. Geo. C. Stemen's care.

Two new engines, built in the Fort Wayne shops, were sent east today to be used on the eastern division of the Pennsylvania road. They were No 116, a class I, and 66, a class R. No. 128, just out of the shops after a thorough overhauling, went up to Chicago today to haul a suburban passenger train.

The Bluffton Bugle says that Robert Barr, after eleven years service as master mechanic at the Grimes machine shops, resigned his position last week and will engage in the business for himself, either in Bluffton, Decatur or Hartford City. Mr. Barr formerly resided in Fort Wayne, where is yet a frequent visitor. Mrs. Barr and Mrs. H. H. Barons are sisters.

John Wannamaker, the postmaster-general and king of Philadelphia merchants, has contracted with the Fort Wayne Furniture company for two car loads of their new style folding beds a month. This month Mr. Wanamaker may increase the order, as his sales are on the increase. Last Friday he sent in an order for a car load and yesterday ordered another car load.

A HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS

May be Added to the State Tax Duplicate—The State Board.

Indianapolis News.

Yesterday was the day fixed by law for the meeting of the state tax commissions, but, after formally organizing, the board adjourned for a week. This was out of deference to Governor Hovey and Commissioner Walker, who have arranged to be absent at Detroit, attending the Grand Army encampment.

The board has forfeited itself in dealing with big corporations, and proposes to deal out justice as open-handed as possible. Blanks have been furnished to all the county auditors, and while the commissioners will hardly be able to review all individual cases, it will still be able to review generally all the work of the county board of review.

The letter which accompanies the blanks is as follows:

Sufficient individual complaints have been made, taken together with personal investigations made by us, to convince this board that prudence and exact justice demand that we should at least make careful scrutiny into the assessments made against the corporations of the state. Accordingly we have prepared and herewith inclose blank forms, largely self-explanatory, which we request that you promptly fill out, giving answer to each interrogatory, with conscientous care and accuracy. It is intended that you shall report, in the manner indicated by said blanks, the property of all corporations of importance and conceded wealth in your county. We leave with your discretion the omission of only such companies as are unimportant and concerning the return of whose property there is no question.

As a rule, it is important that all banks, street railway, telephone, telegraph, gas, waterworks, coal and large manufacturing companies of every character be included in the list. Also such railroad property as is passed upon by local boards.

The board promises to watch the interests of the people vigilantly, and is familiar with the old assessments of the corporations, and, by reason of this fact, will be able to deal with them fairly. Attorney-General Smith has prepared himself to fight for a higher assessment of corporation property, of which, he says, there should be $100,000,000 added to the tax duplicates of the state.

"I shall go before the board on behalf of the people," said Mr. Smith, "and demand that the corporations be compelled to pay their just tax. It was wrong for the board to adjourn, because it will have enough work to keep it busy the full session of forty days."

The board has decided to hear the appeals of individuals from the decisions of county boards of review first, taking up one county at a time, and following this work the equalization of realty will be made. On August 20 railroads and corporations will be taken up. Each railroad will be permitted to file written briefs, and will be limited to brief oral statements. The hearing of these statements will be arranged by Secretary Fanning.

Secretary Fanning says that the board is terribly in earnest in its desire to assess corporation property and that both sides of the question will be heard. In the past it has been the policy to simply hear the railroads' arguments on the reduction side and the people were not represented.

The board is empowered to summon witnesses, and may punish those who refuse to obey by fine and imprisonment.

THE WEST MURDER.

A Celebrated Case Recalled by the Capture of the Murderer.

The celebrated West murder, which stirred Northern Indiana in 1887, has been revived in the supposed capture of Rev. Thomas Abbott West. The latter was pastor of the Methodist church at Chesterton, and he had an invalid wife and five small children. Susie Beck, aged sixteen, was a domestic in his employ. Both disappeared under circumstances indicating elopement, and West was deposed from the ministry. Afterward he returned, disclaiming all knowledge of the girl, and protesting that he had been in Chicago under treatment for spinal disease. Within a few weeks he had practically regained the confidence of the community, but one night, during prayer meeting at his house, he again disappeared, and that was the last of him. Meanwhile it was hinted that during his absence the first time he and the Beck girl, pretended to be man and wife, went to St. Louis, where he changed his name to Thomas Abbott, and was known as a chemist. His supposed wife suddenly died, and an analysis developed quantities of arsenic in her stomach. An attempt was then made to arrest West, but he disappeared. A reward of $800 was then offered for him by the governor of Missouri. He was tracked at one time to London, Canada, where his first wife and children are now living, but his capture was prevented through the fidelity of a relative, who was serving as a constable.

The Ruggedest Path in Life

If it be but irradiated by good health, is shorn of half its distasteful features. Hosts of distinguished men and women have uttered regrets for a past when young, full of vigor and hope, though battling with obstacles that seemed well nigh insurmountable, their pulses beat, their veins tingled with the glow of joyous health. Chronic invalids, would you once more feel that glow, would you—as of yore—sleep, eat, digest perfectly? Then use, with persistence, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, foremost among tonics, most reliable of vitalizing medicines. Nervousness, dyspepsia, hypochondria, a loss of appetite and sleep, this grand recuperative of a debilitated physique and impaired constitutional vigor speedily prevails against. Rheumatic and neuralgic ailments, malarial disorders, kidney troubles, and the growing infirmities of age, are successfully combatted by this benign specific.

FRUIT HOUSE PRICES

For the Fall of 1891.

Since the reduction of the sugar duties, the market has seen the lowest prices since the history of the U. S. There is no complaining now about price. The idea of granulated sugar selling at 5c lb and choice yellow sugars at 4c lb was a thing unthought of yet, so it is, and the people are availing themselves of it and using double the quantity they formerly did.

TEAS! TEAS! TEAS! TEAS!

Are also extremely low—notwithstanding the increased consumption, they are no higher. The high prices in coffee was thought would advance teas, but it has not. They remain at last quotations, and very firm in price. When it is considered that we sell a good tea at 25c lb, while coffee is selling at 25c lb, anyone can readily account for the increased demand for teas, for a pound of tea will go further than 2 lbs of coffee, and besides is becoming a favored cup. We sell more tea now in a day than we did in a month twenty years ago. We maintain our reputation for selling fine teas at the low prevailing prices—on the principle of purchasing our teas direct of the importers and retailing them direct to our customers at a small profit, thereby saving them the profit of the middlemen, which is often 10 to 30c lb.

A committee consisting of J. O. Jansen, Henry Koch and D. H. Thiele, representing the Trades and Labor council, are around feeling the public pulse in regard to a grand labor day celebration proposed for September 7th. About $500 will be required to pay the expenses of this celebration, and it is expected that nearly all of this amount will be willingly subscribed by the merchants of the town. The committee informed THE SENTINEL today that Messrs. Centlivre and Bergdoll had each subscribed $50 and that a number of merchants had subscribed $5 or $10 apiece. The street railway will probably subscribe $100. The Centlivres agree to increase their subscription if the celebration is held at Centlivre's park and the Lake Shore people would run a special train to and from the grounds if it is decided to hold it there. But a number of merchants do not favor that location, urging for their reason that it would keep people away from the city. It can be said reliably that if the committee continues to meet with encouragement equal to that which has so far attended their efforts, a celebration will be held here on Labor day that will attract large crowds to the city. The committee will report the result of their canvass next Friday evening when the Trades and Labor council will decide the question of holding the celebration.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

Rev. A. Guttmacher Handsomely Remembered by Friends.

Rev. Dr. A. Guttmacher, the retiring rabbi of the Hebrew congregation in this city, was tendered an ovation at the West Berry street residence of Mr. and Mrs. Oppenheimer last evening. It was a farewell reception to mark the departure of the popular divine to Baltimore, for which place he leaves today to enter upon a new charge with a broader field of work. The house was decorated for the occasion. The host and hostess were assisted by their charming daughter, Laura, the affianced bride of Rev. Guttmacher. After the guests had assembled Mr. Frank stepped forward and expressed the regret felt by all at his departure and on behalf of friends in the congregation, presented him with an elegant gold headed cane, suitably inscribed, which was accepted by the surprised recipient with fervent words of acknowledgment. Those who participated in the pleasures of the reception were Messrs. and Mesdames Albert Wiler, of Logansport; Julius Pottlitzer, M. Frank, S. Freiburger, L. Freiburger, Dr. J. N. Rosenthal, M.
